

Background

253 Million Adolescents

India's adolescent population represents one-fifth of the nation, with 110 million aged 10-18 years currently enrolled in formal education systems

Critical Health Needs

Addressing the unique sexual and reproductive health needs of adolescents is essential for long-term wellbeing and holistic development

Educational Gateway

Schools and teachers serve as pivotal influencers in shaping health-seeking behaviors and providing accurate, age-appropriate information on sexual and reproductive health (SRH)

Intervention

Population Foundation of India's Educately.org platform empowers educators with knowledge and skills to facilitate safe, non-judgmental learning and discussions on SRH and wellbeing through self-paced and free courses

ARSH for You

A flagship course - ARSH (Adolescent Reproductive and Sexual Health) for You - implemented across 25+ states of India

The platform also offers two other courses - Adolescent Problem Solving and Counselling Training (APT), and Integrated Sexual and Reproductive Health (ISRH)

Platform Evolution

Platform Features

Mobile & Web Friendly

Accessible across all devices.

Bilingual Access

Available in English and Hindi languages

Downloadable Resources

Comprehensive materials for offline reference

Self-Paced Learning

Accommodates varying schedules and learning preferences of educators

Age-Appropriate Activities

Simple activities designed to address complex reproductive health topics effectively

Interactive Modules

Engaging audio-visual content with quizzes and FAQs for guided, comprehensive learning

Reach

4,000+

Trained Professionals

Teachers and professionals trained across government and private sector

18,000

Active Learners

Educators currently enrolled and progressing through courses

200,000

Adolescents Reached

Indirect reach through programme and outreach efforts

5

Government Partnerships

Outreach in UP, Bihar, Manipur, Jharkhand and Rajasthan

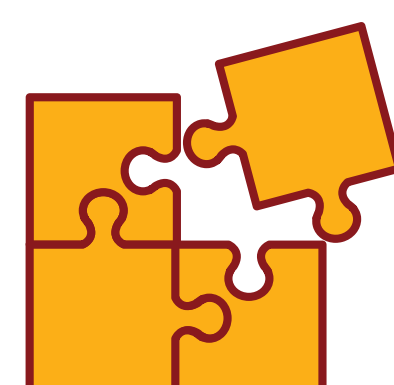

4.4/5

Learner Rating

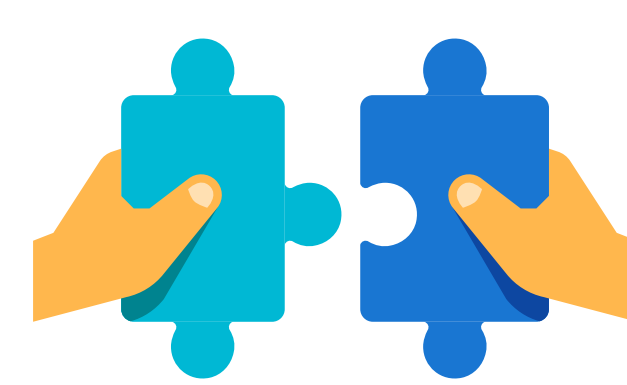

Outstanding satisfaction score from participants

Highlights

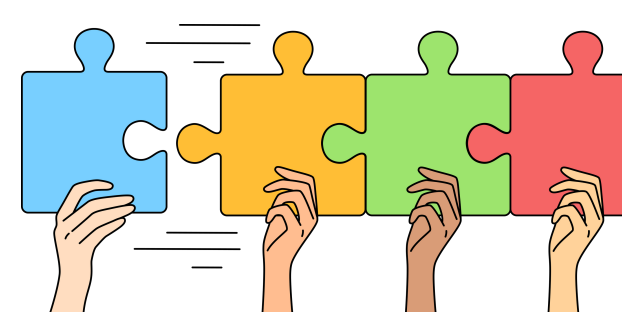

Bridging Equity Gaps

Localised digital learning tools bridge regional disparities, providing reproductive health information to marginalised adolescents effectively.

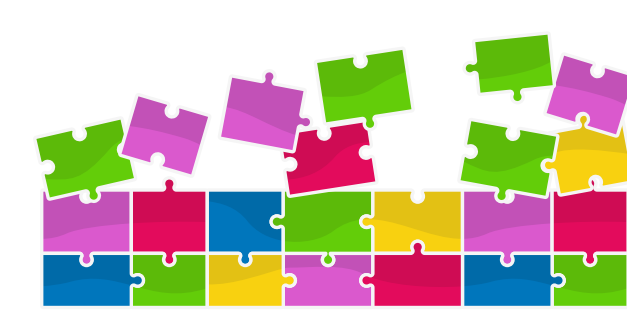

Ecosystem Strengthening

Creating an enabling environment empowers adolescents to achieve better health and wellbeing.

Empowering Educators

Strengthening educator capacity enables open, informed discussions on sensitive health topics, significantly improving adolescent access to vital services.

Digital Scalability

Success of Educately highlights the potential of digital platforms to provide structured and scientifically accurate SRH education at scale, making it accessible to diverse audiences.

Impact

11%

Enhanced Knowledge Base

Increase in understanding of contraception, sexuality, and relationships through pre and post-test analysis

7%

Improved Facilitation Skills

Improvement in educators' ability to lead meaningful group discussions on sensitive topics

Scan to download the poster

